Chapel Chat

The weekly news from Chapel St Leonards Primary School

Circulation: 163

Date: Friday 8th March

Dear Parents/Carers,

This term the school value we will be focussing on will be 'Communication' Charlie. Being able to communicate effectively is absolutely vital for the children to be able to express themselves fully. In assembly we talked about how there are many different ways that we can communicate some without even making a sound! We also discussed the importance of 'thinking before we speak' and how words once they are said cannot be taken back.

Finally, this week marks a full year since I was appointed Headteacher of the school. I feel very proud to be the Headteacher of such a happy and hardworking school and would like to thank everyone for the support they continue to give the school. The children are a credit to us all, they make this a really friendly and vibrant place to work. Thank you.

Water bottles

Please send your child to school with a clear plastic water bottle. This can be accessed throughout the day to keep the children hydrated. For health and hygiene reasons we are not in a position to provide children with drinking cups but they can fill a water bottle at breaks during the day. All of the children have access to water at lunchtimes.

Rocket Fund

Our Rocket Fund page is still live if you are able to donate please follow the link using the QR code. Thank you.

Blue Peter badges

As part of Mrs Pruhs-Borrell's Blue Peter club before Christmas some of the children completed some challenges and were awarded badges. Well done to the children who completed the Green badge challenge to help birds in the environment and the Blue badge winners who designed a new Blue Peter mascot out of clay!

Tesco Bags of Help

The school is currently part of the Tesco Bags of Help scheme to help fund a new Early Years outdoor space. Cast your vote for our project using the token you are given at the check-out in store each time you shop at:

Tesco Express on Queensway, Ingoldmells.

Tesco Superstore on Richmond Dr, Skegness.

Thank you for your support.
